Priority #1

The excess authority is the result of unrealized revenue from an administrative processing fee the department is authorized to charge inmates for banking services per s. 944.516(h), Florida Statutes. Actual fees collected do not cover the funding amount that was reduced from general revenue by legislative action in 2004.

The OAD transaction is used because FTE and rate are not affected by the authority reduction.

This issue provides an option for discussion to implement a furlough for all non-certified employees (7,180) for up to 3 days in the 2010-11 fiscal year or for 12 days during the 2011-12 fiscal year should revenues fall significantly short of required levels to fund Florida's critical services. Positions included in the department's non-certified series include teachers, chaplains, librarians, classification officers, maintenance workers, food service workers, health services staff, accountants, purchasing agents, personnel aids, data entry operators, information technology classes and other administrative/support staff. Correctional officer and correctional probation officer series employees will be unaffected.

The OAD transaction is used because FTE and rate are not affected by the furlough.

This type of reduction could only be achieved should the legislature authorize a lump sum gain time award of up to 170 days. An estimated 13,282 inmates could be released up to 170 days earlier than their scheduled end of sentence. By reducing the inmate population by up to 13,282 inmates, excess beds would be generated thus a reduction of up to nine prisons and associated operational dollars could be eliminated.

The lump sum award of gain time would require technology programming and would place a temporary strain on release officers and others involved in the release and post-release process. Crimes committed by released inmates during the time at liberty due to this award could result in criticism of the decision to make the award.

The excess authority is the result of unrealized revenue from a fund shift to general revenue for $2 Inter-Agency Work Squads. In FY 2005-06 proviso provided $1.4 million in authority contingent upon increased collections from billings to state agencies, public community colleges and state universities to cover the cost of supervision of inmate work squads provided. Actual fees collected do not cover the funding amount that was reduced from general revenue by legislative action in 2005.

SCH VIIIIB-1 NARR 10-11 NARRATIVE: IT COMPONENT? NO
 Priority #9

The Pretrial Intervention (PTI) program is established for first time offenders or persons previously convicted of not more than one nonviolent misdemeanor, charged with misdemeanor or felony of the third degree as provided in s. 948.08, F.S. If a judge sentences an offender to PTI in lieu of prison, the offender must agree to PTI program requirements, including treatment and/or victim restitution. If the offender successfully completes the program, the state may dismiss the charges.

As of August 30, 2010, 9,057 offenders were on PTI supervision. If the 48 probation officers assigned to supervise these 9,057 offenders were eliminated, it is anticipated that the department would be expected to continue to supervise the offenders under supervision and lose the PTI positions by attrition. There may be some counties with PTI type programs who may be willing to assume supervision of some of these PTI offenders, but most of them would remain under the department's jurisdiction until expiration of sentence or return to the sentencing court for further prosecution. As the PTI officer positions become vacant and are eliminated, the PTI offenders would be reassigned to other correctional probation officer or correctional probation senior officer positions in the area to supervise, which would increase the number of offenders they are supervising on their caseloads temporarily, until the PTI offenders terminate supervision or are returned to the court for further prosecution.

If these 48 positions were eliminated immediately, the 9,057 offenders would have to be absorbed by other probation officers to supervise until their PTI supervision ends (a year or two from now) or they are returned to the court for further prosecution due to violations. These offenders would be supervised by correctional probation officers or correctional probation senior officers, depending on their supervision and treatment needs. This would increase the number of offenders on these caseloads, which ultimately impacts the quality of services provided to each offender, as well as the level of supervision provided to monitor compliance with conditions of supervision to ensure public safety.

If the PTI program is eliminated, courts will likely place offenders on felony probation supervision or sentence them to jail sentences. Although under the Criminal Punishment Code all felony offenders may be sentenced to the statutory maximum for the offense of conviction, these offenders should have very low score sheet point totals and be eligible for probation supervision not prison.

The reduction of 60 FTE's is based on position and rate ledger dated August 31, 2010 and $2,215,081 funding reduction is estimated six (6) months projected cost avoidance.

The OAD transaction was used to adjust salaries to meet targeted amount.

Section 409.9025, F.S., provides Medicaid eligibility for inmates in an inpatient setting, for those persons who were Medicaid eligible prior to being admitted as an inmate in a State, County or Municipal detention facility. The department is partnering with the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) to implement this into law. Services include inpatient hospital, outpatient hospital, and emergency room charges. It's difficult at this point to estimate the amount of potential annual savings. Current annual hospitalization costs are $56 million. Based on discussions with AHCA and Department of Children and Families (DCF), there are three distinct populations of inmates that could be eligible: pregnant females (high cost), youthful offenders (low cost) and disabled (high cost). Eligibility is not retroactive to incarcerations before enactment. The department is projecting a 6% reduction in hospital costs based on this limited information.

Section 945.6041, F.S., states compensation to a health care provider to provide inmate medical services may not exceed 110 percent of the Medicare allowable rate if the health care provider does not have a contract to provide services with the department or the private correctional facility which houses the inmate. Compensation to a health care provider may not exceed 125 percent of the Medicare allowable rate if the facility is operating at a loss. Currently, the department pays either 110 percent or 125 percent when no contract exists. This reduction issue, if implemented, would require the department to reduce such payments to 90 percent for one fiscal year.

This reduction issue would require the department to reduce funding for inmate health care by approximately $6,250,000 in Fiscal Year 2010-11 and approximately $9,765,238 in Fiscal Year 2011-12. These reductions would have a detrimental impact on the department's ability to meet inmate health needs.

PRIORITY #7

Revisit the definition for Conditional Medical Release under Section 947.149(1) (a), F.S., which allows for release of permanently incapacitated inmates, upon approval of the Florida Parole Commission. Language is as follows: Section 947.149(1)(a), permanently incapacitated inmate," which means an inmate who has a condition caused by injury , disease, or illness which, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, renders the inmate permanently and irreversibly incapacitated to the extent that the inmate does not constitute a danger to herself or himself or others." This has historically been narrowly defined and, based upon discussions with General Counsel, could be expanded to include more inmates.

These savings will not be immediately recognizable since the department needs to identify specific inmates who meet the eligibility requirements and, subsequently submit a Conditional Medical Release request to the Florida Parole Commission (FPC) for consideration. The department also recognizes it may take additional time for the FPC to rule on these requests due to the increased volume. In addition, the FPC may deny certain requests. The department estimates 250 inmates would be eligible under this provision annually and 50 inmates annually thereafter. Estimated healthcare savings is $3 million.

This type of reduction could only be achieved should the legislature authorize a lump sum gain time award of up to 170 days. An estimated 13,282 inmates could be released up to 170 days earlier than their scheduled end of sentence. By reducing the inmate population by up to 13,282 inmates, excess beds would be generated thus a reduction of up to nine prisons and associated operational dollars could be eliminated.

The lump sum award of gain time would require technology programming and would place a temporary strain on release officers and others involved in the release and post-release process. Crimes committed by released inmates during the time at liberty due to this award could result in criticism of the decision to make the award.

This issue provides an option for discussion to implement a furlough for all non-certified employees (7,180) for up to 3 days in the 2010-11 fiscal year or for 12 days during the 2011-12 fiscal year should revenues fall significantly short of required levels to fund Florida's critical services. Positions included in the department's non-certified series include teachers, chaplains, librarians, classification officers, maintenance workers, food service workers, health services staff, accountants, purchasing agents, personnel aids, data entry operators, information technology classes and other administrative/support staff. Correctional officer and correctional probation officer series employees will be unaffected.

The OAD transaction is used because FTE and rate are not affected by the furlough.

Should the Federal Center for Disease Control authorize the department to expand its 340B HIV/STD drug program between the Departments of Health and Corrections an anticipated $2 million savings may occur in Fiscal Year 2010-11. Currently, the Office of Health Services has agreements with Alachua and Jackson County Health Departments whereby the Department of Health's physicians treat and prescribe drugs for HIV inmates at nine (9) institutions. The department proposes expanding the agreement to include four more County Health Departments which will cover twenty (20) additional institutions.
